

THE REMEMBER 1934 COMMEMORATIVE PLAQUE

Speakers, Food & Honoring of Strike Descendants

We Won't Forget Ever

THERE ARE no permanent historic plaques to recall the dynamic and society changing events that were the MINNEAPOLIS TEAMSTERS STRIKES of 1934. That is about to change.

Successive strikes in Feb, May, July and August of 1934 were fought out in the streets, alleys and on loading docks against scabs, gun toting police and businessmen armed with clubs. The Union's victory against great odds inspired workers across the country and launched the successful movement to "make Minneapolis a union town."
